Refit Boulevard in SuperYacht Pavilion at METS

The SuperYacht Pavilion (SYP) is the only truly international B2B exhibition for companies offering products and services to the large luxury yacht industry. The SYP occupies its own dedicated location within METS – the world's number one leisure marine equipment show – and is a vibrant and busy pavilion attracting high numbers of international visitors as well as delegates and high profile speakers from the associated Global Superyacht Forum (GSF). The GSF, organised by the Yacht Report Group, is held in adjacent conference facilities to complement the networking and B2B learning experience for SYP attendees.

Focus on refit

Successfully introduced in 2009, the Refit Boulevard in the SYP places appropriate emphasis on the vitally important aspect of servicing, maintaining and refurbishing large luxury yachts. Aimed at yacht managers, captains, crew and shipyard managers, the boulevard is the perfect showcase for the essential products and services required by all professionals operating and managing large leisure vessels. Added attractions

In addition to the enormous benefit of the SYP product and service showcase and the GSF – the superyacht sector's leading conference – yacht and yard managers are also drawn to the show by the high profile HISWA Yacht Symposium and the Member's Mixer event organised every year by the International Superyacht Society (ISS). ISS (www.superyachtsociety.com) is THE society for captains and crew members and the Member's Mixer and GSF social events combine to offer unparalleled networking opportunities.

About METS

As the world's biggest marine equipment trade show, METS attracts over 1,261 exhibitors and 18,454 visitors from 94 different countries. It's truly international and strictly trade only. METS offers a global gallery of proven and new products and is the number one place to get a comprehensive market overview and expand your network.

Amsterdam

Well served by an international airport close by and good road and rail networks, Amsterdam is a bright, bustling, multi cultural city with great dining and sight seeing options. Amsterdam RAI is just 10 minutes away from the city centre by public transport.
